Kids & Parents
Gardening Workshop
Saturday, April 12
12 Noon–2 PM

Dormont Public Library
2950 West Liberty Ave.

Connect (or reconnect) with nature with this free program for children and parents to enjoy together.

Learn about companion gardening (growing different plants together which benefit each other) and the importance of native plant species.

Gardening is more than just pretty flowers or tasty vegetables: you can help build a vital, vibrant habitat for plants and animals right in your own backyard.

The presenter will provide all the necessary materials for this workshop, including pots, soil, seeds, and a booklet on how to take care of your plants.

Registration is required; please call 412-531-8754 or visit dormontlibrary.org/events to register.
